Upon entry into Vapor, each guest will be allowed to fill in their name in a cell of their choice. Only one name per cell is allowed. Once all cells are filled the numbers 0-9 will be randomly drawn and filled in along the X and Y axis of the grid. X axis represents the home team and the Y axis is the visitor. Winners will be selected at the end of each quarter based on the score of the game at that time. Prizes are as follows:

Winners must be present to win. If a winner does not report to the Vapor host stand within two minutes, the cell immediately to the right is the winner. If the winner is in the last column, the person in the first column of the same row will be declared the winner. If the winning box is empty, the cell immediately to the right is the winner.
